The Clark County Event Center Hires New Event Coordinator

Ridgefield, WA - The Clark County Event Center has recently hired Chris Huggett to the position of Event Coordinator to help oversee and assist with the growing number of events and exhibitions utilizing the facilities at the Clark County Fairgrounds including the exhibition hall. Huggett will be responsible in assisting Heidi Wilson, Event Manager for all events, as well as assisting with facility management and marketing.

As the number of event bookings continues to grow for the Event Center, the need for an assistant to work with promoters, event planners and facility management became important. Huggett's extensive experience in events and event management made him a natural choice for the growing Event Center.

"The Event Center is privileged to have someone of Chris' considerable event experience join our team. The Event Center is the venue of choice for promoters and event planners all over the region and west coast wanting to access attendees from SW Washington," noted Justin Kobluk, Executive Director of the Event Center.

Huggett's background includes events at Mt. Hood Meadows since 2002, working with the Portland Rose Festival from 1998 to 2007, and working with the Clark County Fair in Marketing and Sponsorship operations since 2003. Huggett holds an Associates Degree in Broadcast Journalism from Mt. Hood Community College earned in 2000.
